CAPITAL NEEDED.

The value of the Windermere district as a mineral producing district is day by day becoming greater, and although it is early in the season many valuable prospects have been discovered. The country fairly swarms with prospectors and every day more are coming in over the different routes, and it is impossible to travel up any of the creeks without running across the white tents of the mineral seekers. But what we need far more than the prospector is the capitalist, we want men who will take hold of the properties already discovered and make mines of them. That the country will repay any investment made in it there can be no doubt, and the Delphine, Paradise and Silver Crown, etc., are fair standards where by to judge of the mineral values of this section of the famous Kootenay country. There are many properties which are high grade properties, but are of little value to the prospectors from the fact that too much money is required to develop them and put them on a shipping basis but which would in the hands of men of men be soon and easily turned into paying investments. Every effort, therefore, should be made to place these facts before the investing public, and induce them to inspect the district and judge for themselves of its value. The best possible opportunity that just now confronts us is to make our exhibit at the Spokane Fruit Fair and the Toronto Exhibition the largest and most attractive of any one exhibit that may be sent to these exhibitions. We have plenty of ore and it is the bounden duty of each individual to see that they do their part and assist the Board of Trade in their efforts to make a good collection. There is no time to spare, in fact all the specimens of rock should be in the hands of the committee now.

The importance of losing no time in pushing the mineral riches of this fertile valley into notice may be more readily realized when we consider that with activity in mining there would be imparted to other promising branches of industry greater activity. The mining towns and mines would at once supply a greater demand and a steady market for farm produce, and the many thousands of acres of land would soon fill up with husbandmen.

Many prospectors are claim poor. They should develop more and stake less.

HOW TO REACH CANTERBURY.

The Steamer Ducloux leaves Golden every Tuesday and Friday morning at 4 o'clock, arriving here at 6 p.m.

The stage leaves Golden at 7 a.m. every Sunday.

Stage leaves Fort Steele, on the Crow's Nest Pass Railway, every Friday at 8 a.m. and arrives about noon Sunday.

Prospectors can go to the creek from West Kootenay in twodays, following Hamond creek from Argenta, on Kootenay lake, to the summit, thence down Toly creek.

The agitator stand outside of organization, with no local to earn, no candidate to elect, no party to serve, no object but truth—to bear a question open and rid it with light—Wendell Phillips.

Windermere Mining Division.

Below we publish a description of the Windermere Mining Division, taken from the Official Gazette, as the lines are set forth in the act which came into effect on January 1st, 1900. We publish this for the benefit of our readers as there are no doubt many who have never had the opportunity of seeing a copy of the law, also as the Censor is desirous of having in its columns all data that concern this important division.

Commencing on the eastern boundary of the Province at a point where such boundary meets the height of land separating the drainage area of the Upper Kootenay river on south from the drainage area of the Kicking Horse on north; thence south-westerly along height of land between drainage area of Upper Kootenay and Columbia rivers to a point where such height of land joins the height of land between Deadman and Wahnapum creeks; thence westerly along such height of land to a crossing of the Columbia river between Big Lost creek on north and Salmon river on south; thence westerly along height of land between the drainage area of these creeks to a point where such height of land joins height of land separating the drainage area of Kootenay lake on west from drainage area of Upper Columbia and Upper Kootenay rivers on east; thence southerly along such height of land to a point where such height of land joins the height of land between St. Mary's and Skookumchuck rivers on south and Findlay creek on north; thence easterly along such height of land to a crossing of the Kootenay river just below mouth of Findlay creek; thence easterly along height of land forming divide between drainage area of streams flowing into Kootenay proper on south and Findlay creek from the drainage area of streams flowing into Kootenay river below mouth of Findlay creek to a point where such height of land joins the eastern boundary of the Province; thence north-westerly along such boundary line to point of commencement.

Little Henry Q's Testimony.

You say that story about the whale and Jonah isn't true.
And now they've gone—the preachers
have—tackled David, too.
They say he didn't write the Psalms, at least, not nearly all.

I wonder what'll be the next good old
belief to fall?
They've even thrown suspicion on the birth of Moses, and
The Prince & a discredited him down
there in Egypt land.
They say there isn't no fiery lake, no
devil, therefore no
Such place as that which used to make the sinners tremble so.

They've said that Noah's ark is just a piece of fiction, too.
And that the tale of Daniel in the lion's den isn't true.
They've said that Adam's just a myth—
they've said the same of Eve—
I wonder if there's anything they'll leave us to believe?

They ridicule old Joshua for pointing 'at
the sun
And tellin' it to stop—they say the thing
was never done;
They've taken up the patriarchs and
questioned all their acts.
They say the Bible's quite a book, but rather shy of facts.

Well let'em preach and let'em lay the whole great structure low?
I s'pose they have to talk that way 'cause
people want it so.
The Good Book doesn't suit some folks
at all, but as for me—
I'm satisfied to keep the faith I got at mother's knee.

At a recent school examination for Pis, there was handed in by a girl of 12—
"The boy is not an animal, yet he can be heard a considerable distance. When a boy hollers he opens his big mouth like a frog; but girls hold their tongue till they are spoken to, and then they answer respectfully and tell just how it was. A boy thinks himself clever because he can wade, where the water is deep. When the boy grows up he is called a husband, and then he stops wading and stays out nights, but the grown up girl is a widow and keeps home."

Business may be done without advertising, so will grain grow without fertilizers. But what will the harvest be?
